What Happened

You carefully stand up, steadying yourself against the table. As you scan the room, you notice a mysterious note tucked under an empty mug. Your keen eyes spot something important.

You make your way to the old mill, key in hand. The building is ancient and weathered, but the door has a lock that matches your key perfectly.

Additional Details

You arrive at the old mill. The door opens with your key, and inside you find... well, that's where this story ends. But your adventure has just begun.

Author: WAFT Scenario Engine Demo Description: A short demo scenario demonstrating the scenario engine architecture Generated: January 13, 2026 at 12:34 AM.

You wake up in a dimly lit tavern with no memory of how you got there. Your head is pounding, and the room spins slightly as you sit up. The air smells of ale and sawdust.
