What Happened

The keep is guarded by the spirits of fallen soldiers, bound to protect the fragment. The party must prove their worth through combat and honor.

The adventure begins in the bustling Golden Dragon Tavern, where three unlikely heroes find themselves drawn together by fate—or perhaps something more sinister.

Additional Details

A hooded figure approaches the party's table, placing a worn leather scroll before them. The parchment glows faintly with arcane energy.

The scroll contains a partial map, showing only the location of the first fragment: the ancient ruins of Moonfall Keep, said to be haunted by the spirits of those who died defending it.

The journey to Moonfall Keep takes three days through the Whispering Woods. As the party approaches, the air grows cold and the sounds of battle echo from the past.
